“ I met Kathy almost 2 years ago, here at Lang Tree ladies night. She and the others welcomed me warmly, where I shared my journey as a breast cancer advocate. She eventually called me, to have breakfast and to ask my advice for information on next steps. I eventually made some calls to a oncologist, I was working with at Duke, and told Kathy that he would consult with her. She and her best friend made the trip to see him, and he helped her with understanding the cancer treatment that she was getting was better than anything he could offer. Her comments after that visit, was she felt surrounded by someone who cared. We became friends who loved sharing our grandma moments, and just laughing together. I will miss her dearly, for her caring, grace and compassion for others.

“ Kathy was my mentor, friend, confidant when we worked together at Cadwalader. I will miss your ready smile, sense of humor, intelligence and the beauty that you spread on this plane. Go spread more beauty on the other side... Rest in eternal peace, dear Kathy.
